

A CATHOLIC PARLIAMENTARY LIAISON OFFICE WEBINAR ON:

Advocating for the Rights of Children

At election time the rights of children, who cannot vote, are often overlooked. And yet, as the recent case of six-year-old Joshlin Smith, suspected to have been a victim of child trafficking, has once again highlighted, so many children are used and abused to serve adult ends, denied the most basic of rights, and often at the cost of their lives. What lies at the heart of this problem, and what steps should we be taking socially, legally and politically to promote children's rights and wellbeing?
